

REDS SMASHING POLISH ARMY ON 50-MILE FRONT

Informed officials here would not be surprised to hear at any time that the Polish army had been smashed and General Wroblewski, the anti-Bolshevik leader.

In the Caucasus an anti-Bolshevik spirit was reported spreading rapidly among the Polish army as the result of their treatment by this same Bolshevik army. Natives complained it denied the country, sending livestock, etc., to Moscow and even pillaging homes.

Talk of a general military uprising against Lenin and Trotsky and the establishment of a military government gained considerable credence from the fact that the Red army is almost entirely commanded by former regular officers who served with the czar, and their seeming loyalty to the czar is only waiting for a chance to turn upon the Bolshevik government and destroy it.

But it means to this end, to give them control of overwhelming military strength.

The Moscow wireless communication received here early this morning announced the Reds had captured Osovietz and were pursuing the Poles. Capture of positions north of Bielostok also was announced.

GERMANY AT MERCY OF REDS: LUDENDORF.

By FRANK MASON, International News Service Staff.

BERLIN, July 31.—Germany lies at the mercy of Bolshevik Russia, in a military sense, according to General Erich Ludendorff, former quartermaster general of the German army, chief of staff to Field Marshal von Hindenburg, and noted during the war as the "brains of the German army."

General Ludendorff declared that the frontiers of East Prussia, where the Russians are reported to be virtually unprotected and that the "reichswehr," the present standing army of Germany, is no match for the veterans of the powerful army of Soviet Russia.

"An analysis of the present military situation convinces me that Germany is at the mercy of Bolshevik Russia," declared Ludendorff, "and the German reichswehr is no match for the Soviet armies."

REICHSWEHR LACK SUFFICIENT STRENGTH.

"Do you mean that reichswehr troops are inadequate to defend Germany from a possible Russian invasion?" the general was asked.

"Troops must always be judged in relation to their equipment," he replied. "The reichswehr troops have not been through maneuvers nor battle practice and cannot be used to defend our eastern frontier. The army would be required to maintain order in the interior of Germany. Attempted invasion by the Russians might result in internal troubles by the German sympathizers."

"On the other hand, the Russians are in good fighting shape and are well trained. They have defeated the armies of General Denikin and General Kolchak and now they have beaten the Poles. They have greater numbers of fighting men than we have."

"Consider that the East Prussian frontier is unprotected and is therefore Germany's greatest danger spot. We are solely dependent upon the good will of Russia's soviet army and it is an unstable position for any state to be in."

POLE DELEGATES CROSS ARMISTICE LINES.

WARSAW, July 31.—(By United Press.)—Armistice negotiations between the Poles and Bolsheviks began today. The Polish delegates crossed the armistice lines at 8 o'clock last night. They were assured by the Bolsheviks that the international armistice rules would be strictly observed.

Meanwhile, the Reds were reported to have invaded Galicia north of Brody, which has been evacuated. Lengier must be given up if the fighting continues and it is not interrupted.

A government composed of an Austrian soldiers' and workmen's council was reported to have been set up at Trieste. Battleships and troops were being formed there.

Harding Challenges Cox To Tell League Stand And Explain Drive Fund

MARION, Ohio, July 31.—Senator Harding prefaces his front porch campaign with a statement attacking Governor Cox for specifications of the Democratic stand on the league of nations and charging that the "powerful international interests" concerned in President Wilson's foreign policy were preparing to finance liberally the Democratic campaign.

He declared it had become apparent that the Democratic campaign managers hoped to keep the league in the background, but he said they would not be permitted to do so.

Senator Harding's statement said: "Our Democratic friends are having difficulty getting away from the embarrassment incident to their candidate's visit to the White House and the announcement that he and the president found themselves in entire agreement."

At the time of their conference I addressed some questions to the Democratic candidate, which he has not thus far been able to answer. One was whether in his conference with President Wilson he had pledged himself to the ratification of the treaty and league without essential modification.

FOREIGN POLICY QUERIED.

Another was whether article 10 had been accepted by him. Still further, I asked whether Governor Cox had undertaken to renew the demand that this country take a mandate over Armenia. I asked whether Governor Cox had undertaken to maintain the administration policy in the east, where their policy had already wellnigh forfeited the friendship of the Italian nation, brought Italy to the verge of revolution and almost wrecked the establishment of the peace. I asked whether Governor Cox had pledged himself to insist, as President Wilson has before insisted, that the Balkans shall be settled as Bulgaria desires rather than as Greece desires.

In short, I asked whether the Democratic nominee has taken over the various known and unknown commitments of the administration's foreign policy in order to establish harmony between the president and Governor Cox.

EVASION CHARGED.

None of these questions has been answered, but there is accumulation of evidence that the Democratic attitude, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, a Democrat, was in Dayton, Thursday, and after a long talk with Governor Cox declared that he was not supporting Cox.

According to the newspaper reports, the senator was asked about Governor Cox's decision to support article 10 and whether he would agree with a candidate on nine out of ten issues and still support that candidate, even if they differed on the tenth proposition.

"Thus it became apparent Senator Walsh was not able to agree with Governor Cox's view on article 10," the senator declared, "and he is maintaining the same attitude toward article 10 that President Wilson has long maintained. Apparently he gets no pleasure or assurances to the president that if elected he will stand by the president's program. Otherwise, the governor would have been able to give Senator Walsh assurance that would have saved the latter from the uncomfortable necessity of admitting they did not agree about article 10."

There is further evidence that the Democratic nominee is obligated to stand by the foreign policy of the administration. Mr. White, the national committee man interviewed in Washington and also occupying Graefevale and Stutzhin, which are close to the Russian frontier.

The correspondent reported having seen the Polish delegates crossing the armistice lines at 8 o'clock last night. They were assured by the Bolsheviks that the international armistice rules would be strictly observed.

yesterday and said "progressivism is to be the paramount issue of the campaign." And later he added, "progressivism necessarily carries with it the league of nations, and he indicated very plainly that the Democrats intend to attempt forcing other issues to the front to keep the public mind away from the fact that their candidate has given his pledge to support the Wilson policy toward the treaty and league.

CAMOUFLAGE IMPOSSIBLE.

It is perfectly understandable that the Democratic campaign manager should desire to have the Wilson policy of the Democratic foreign policies forgotten. But the Democrats attempt to get away from this question, the more insistent the country will be to know what they intend to do if they are entrusted with the administration. It is as plain that "accord" could not have been established by the president and the Democratic candidate except on conditions that the latter had renounced the Wilson policy.

No matter how it may be camouflaged, it is more obvious every day that the Democrats are winning their effort would be to compel ratification of the league of nations without essential modification. Senator Walsh's statement that he had undertaken to renew the demand that this country take a mandate over Armenia, I asked whether Governor Cox had undertaken to maintain the administration policy in the east, where their policy had already wellnigh forfeited the friendship of the Italian nation, brought Italy to the verge of revolution and almost wrecked the establishment of the peace. COXSPEED TO HARE 'SURPRISE' POLITICIANS HINT

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The position of the Democratic party with reference to the league of nations "will be made perfectly clear" when Governor Cox delivers his speech accepting the presidential nomination, it was announced today.

DAYTON, O., July 31.—Governor Cox today entered upon the final part of his speech of acceptance and was positive that the finishing touches would be given before 6 o'clock tonight.

One portion of the speech of acceptance, however, is being withheld. It is the "surprise" which is awaited with interest. For weeks it has been rumored that the Governor, with a true sense of publicity values, would "keep a card in the hole" until the last moment and would play this card at a time when it would do the utmost good for his cause.

ALVAREZ COXY WOULD CONFIRMATION TODAY

This rumor was given additional confirmation today when the Governor reiterated that the most important part of his speech, to be delivered on official nomination day, August 7, would not be given to the newspapers until the morning of delivery.

The speech will be a long one, treating with all the features of the campaign, but there are two points of interest—the nominee's exact position on the treaty question and prohibition. The former has been forced to start from that point to attack Senator Harding's second demand that Cox answer several international questions and by current reports that the governor was turning away from the Wilson position on the treaty fight.

PROHIBITION IN LIMELIGHT

The prohibition fight is in the limelight because Cox has not answered the request of Richmond P. Hobson of the Anti-Saloon League as to whether a wet modification of the Volstead law will be favored by the Democratic nominee.

Efforts to obtain an inkling of the Governor's position have been met with "you will have to wait and read the speech."

LONDON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—An official report came from the reception Thursday by Premier Lloyd George of a deputation of Unionist peers and members of the House of Commons to discuss Ireland, showing that the Duke of Northumberland and Sir Edward Carson, Unionist leader, both of whom emphasized that the Sinn Fein was part of the national movement, and that the Sinn Fein was playing an active part, aiming at the destruction of the British Empire.

The Sinn Fein, it was stated, had been formed early in 1912 between the Sinn Fein and the Sinn Fein through Patrick McCartan, Sinn Fein "ambassador" to the United States. McCartan declared that the Sinn Fein was represented leading up to the third international and that the Sinn Fein program was virtually identical with the program of the Sinn Fein.

ALLEGED BY CARSON.

Sir Edward Carson elaborated his view of the existence in the United States of a Sinn Fein propaganda bureau representing the disaffected people of Egypt, India and Ireland. He argued that the Sinn Fein was a part of the Sinn Fein propaganda bureau in America "came to Ireland last year that the Sinn Fein became unmanageable in a conspiracy which was to all small nations without consideration of the interests of larger nations."

BOLSHEVIT GOLD AIDS REVEALED, PREMIER SAYS.

Premier Lloyd George expressed disappointment that the denunciation had failed to suggest possible remedies for the situation. He agreed there was a Sinn Fein propaganda bureau in Ireland and that the Sinn Fein was playing an active part, aiming at the destruction of the British Empire.

The Premier touched on the difficulty of finding necessary troops and officers for carrying out military policy in Ireland "under conditions worse and more wearing than man's nerve than the last war."

Elias Calles, Mexican minister of war and marine, in El Paso, Texas, yesterday that Governor Cantu was trying to "run the state as separate from the balance of Mexico and for his personal ends."

Calles said that on the contrary he had always attempted to develop more intimate relations between Lower California and other parts of Mexico.

Cantu's supporters there said that almost to a man the inhabitants had pledged themselves to Cantu.

"The people of Tijuana," said the supporters, "are tired of the federal government and they are tired of the federal government."

The government subordinates announced a delegation of 100 men had asked him what protection he would give them then in case of hostilities between his forces and those of the federal government.

His reply was said by the officials to have been:

Criticism of Bible, Sermon At Trinity

Bible study and the rights of the student of literature to examine the books of the Bible from the critical point of view will be the theme of the sermon at Trinity Episcopal Church, 1000 Broadway, at 11 o'clock, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The rector, Rev. Lloyd B. Thomas, will say:

"The question of interest to the average person," says Rev. Thomas, "is not whether the Bible is true. What is its method? and What is its value? These are questions which should be asked by every student of the point of view of the sincere student of literature. Is real study of literature, whether it be the Bible, to be read, or shall be actually studied? If the Bible is to be read, it is a book which possesses the right to be understood by the average reader. No student of literature should be able to stand between the reader and the meaning of the text. In addition, the student of literature should be able to command which will make the meaning of the text more clear."

EIGHTH-AVENUE METHODIST
Rev. A. H. Sneedham of the Eighth Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church will preach at 11 a. m. tomorrow, on "She Hath Done What She Could."

SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN CONTEST FOR MEMBER BANNER

The course set for the Sunday schools contesting for the membership banner is half run. All are sanguine and several have chosen locations in their class rooms in which to erect the trophy.

A factor that sharpens the interest of all schools is that the award is to be made not on the number of new scholars in attendance, but rather on the percentage of new scholars. The school which gives the smallest school an equal part with the largest and most central.

The legend on the banner, "We Knew No Summer Slump," is the battle cry of all the schools enrolled in the contest, and their object, even more than the winning of the banner, is to permanently and the slackness in Sunday school attendance that has characterized too many classes during past vacation periods.

PARE CONGREGATIONAL
"The Man from India" will be the theme for the Sunday school, Sunday morning, to be given by Mrs. D. S. Collins, assistant superintendent of the school.

K. W. Pendleton, pastor of the church, is now on a vacation with his family in the southern part of the state and the pulpit will be occupied next Sunday both morning and evening by Professor Tolson of the Pacific School of Religion. Professor Tolson conducted a series of lectures on "Christian Democracy" at Park Church last winter, so he is not a stranger and the people of the church will welcome the opportunity of hearing him again. Rev. Pendleton will return in two weeks.
